

Taylor Guess

Partner

Taylor brings extensive experience in lateral partner placements, with a deep understanding of BigLaw culture and the demands of global law firms. He has been instrumental in securing pivotal placements for CenterPeak's landmark deals across corporate and litigation practice areas. Working closely with Am Law 100 senior leaders in cities like Chicago, Houston and his hometown of Austin, Taylor's strong relationships with firm chairs and practice group leaders make him a trusted partner for firms seeking top talent.

Taylor's strategic insights into the lateral market help firms achieve growth objectives and enhance profitability. He is committed to fully understanding candidates' career goals and providing personalized support throughout the placement process. Taylor's personable approach fosters trust, ensuring seamless and successful hires.

Outside of work, Taylor enjoys playing music, watching his beloved Aggies play football and spending time with his family. He holds a BBA and MS in Accounting from Texas A&M University.
